

COMPANY PROFILE

WHO IS SOURCECORP AUSTRALIA?

SourceCorp Australia specialises in the manufacturing, procurement and supply of construction-based products direct from China. Our success can be attributed to our extensive product knowledge, expert compliance experience and unparalleled quality assurance.

DIRECTOR

John Lyons manages the China operation. The company's head office is in Devonport, Tasmania and the factories are in Zhongshan City in the South of China.

SourceCorp Australia is a one-stop shop with over 15 years manufacturing and exporting from China.

It is an Australian-owned company with Joint Venture partners with factories and warehouses in China. It has offices based in Australia and China.

The four JV partners manufacture aluminium windows, doors, shower screens and balustrades; kitchens, vanities, and wardrobes, as well as hot tubs and swim spas; kitchen and office bench tops.

ADVANTAGES OF USING SOURCECORP AUSTRALIA

SourceCorp Australia provides warranty and after sales service on all its products. All products meet Australian standards and WaterMark Certification where required.

The company has:

- An excellent understanding of many different products.
- Its own full time Australian and English speaking employees in China.
- Understanding of Australian and other country's standards very well.
- Ability to arrange mixed containers of many different products.
- An excellent understanding of Chinese customs and culture.
- Is able to arrange everything from sourcing products, negotiating prices and delivery to your door including all documentation. Customers are encouraged to visit our factories so they gain confidence in our company and operations.

- Purchasing directly will save money and time.
- SourceCorp Australia will take the time to understand your business and its needs to ensure products are made to specification and are compliant with your local regulations.

SOME BACKGROUND

John, an Australian, resides much of the time in China, and runs SourceCorp Australia operations and factories, including; logistics, quality control, pricing, product range, etc. He has spent over fifteen years importing a wide range of products from China. He has extensive knowledge of business operations both in Australia and overseas.

His expertise as an importer and distributor into Australia of plumbing supplies includes wholesaling to over 300 plumbing stores across Australia. With warehouse, and wholesale distribution channels across Australia he understands the industry very well.

John's background and experience is not however limited to his extensive China knowledge. John's grandfather was the Prime Minister of Australia, and his grandmother was the first woman in Australian senate for 20 years. With a very prestigious family background of political and governing success, John's experience of Australian and international business will prove to be an incredible asset to SourceCorp Australia.

With a strong political background, John formerly worked and resided in Europe and South Africa, brokering business deals with international governments. John started working with Australian Ostrich Company and helped establish the first multi-specie abattoir in Australia, and accordingly spent a lot of time in South Africa, over a five year period. John controlled the operations, and international marketing and brokerage of ostrich meat between many countries.